Among the educational problems, therefore, which must be solved before our schools become efficient, the teacher problem is perhaps the most vital. LETTER FROM COLORADO.

The following letter from Hon. R. C. Walker, founder of the Crittenden PRESS, which was received lately by his old friend, Harrison Bigham, will be read with peculiar interest by the hundreds of Mr. Walker's friends in this part of the State:

GRAND JUNCTION, COL., Nov. 6, 1905 --- Mr. W. H. Bigham, Marion, Ky. Dear Old Friend: I received your letter some days ago and was glad to hear from you and to know that you had not forgotten your old Democratic friend. A letter from you always puts me in good humor, and brings a glow of pleasure and happiness that won't rub off for many, many days. Such letters always call to mind the good old fall days we used to have about the first of November, when the Press drawing came off, and the fall pork began to taste good, possums got ripe and the sorghum got thick, and the turkeys begin to remind you of Thanksgiving. Ah, those were the days to remember and the incidents and atmosphere of those times are as fresh in my memory and as sweet to my being as if it were but yesterday. That was the summer time of my life and it is joyful to live it over again in the mind.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure strengthens weak hearts, and rarely ever fails to cure heart disease. Try it, and see how quickly you will find relief.

"About January 1st, 1902, I took down with weakness and dropsy, and gradually grew worse. I was told by my family physician that my case was hopeless. My neighbors and family had given me up to die. My limbs and body were swollen to one-third larger than normal size, and water had collected around my heart. For at least three months I had to sit propped up in bed to keep from smothering. I sent for five bottles of Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, and by the time I had taken them all I was entirely cured. HELPS TO STUDY

Our lesson to-day is the growth and ministry of John the Baptist. Luke gives us some important facts in chronology. He gives us the civil and ecclesiastical rulers at that time. Tiberius was associated with Augustus as emperor in A. D. 11. This would make the ministry of John the Baptist begin in 25. Pontius Pilate was made procurator in 25, and was thus the ruler in Palestine when John began to preach. Palestine contained two tetrarchies, that of Herod Antipas and Philip; Syria contained 17. Herod Antipas ruled over the territory in which Jesus grew up. He reigned 43 years, and was then banished to Lyons on the charge of preparing for a revolt. Although Luke mentions Annas and Caiaphas both, there could be but one acting high priest at a time. Caiaphas was the acting high priest, but as Annas had been deposed by the Roman authorities, the Jews deferred to him as high priest.

PLACE:- The rough, mountainous, and uninhabited or sparsely settled region lying west and north-west of the Dead Sea (Judg. 1:16.)

The Gospel is simply the facts about Jesus coming to redeem the world and to save the people from their sins, and this is "good news." In Luke the "good news" began with the announcement to Zacharias, but in Mark the Gospel begins with the preaching of John the Baptist.

His principal theme was repentance, which was preparatory to Christ's Kingdom. Christ points out in concrete examples adapted to the several classes of people, how the repentence which he demanded would express itself. These are examples of the 'fruits worthy of repentance.' Here we have the religious teaching that none can avoid the certain punishment of sin except by announcing it in every form.

The portion of Herod's Kingdom assigned to Archaleus was Judea, Samaria and Idumea. He was styled the ethnarch, while Herod Antipas and Philip were styled tetrarchs. Archaleus was sent to Rome for his schooling, but received only a meager education.

He was arrogant, unjust, and sensual in his nature. His reign was characterized by oppression, arbitrariness and tyranny. Like his father he installed or deposed high priests at his pleasure or caprice. Every year of his rule was full of injustice or abuse. At last all joined in one general complaint against him to the emperor, who summoned him to Rome in his tenth year of office, to answer for his misdeeds. The result was that he was banished to Vienna in Gaul, (A. D. 6) his property was confiscated, and his territory made a Roman province.

Nazareth is situated a little south of the southern end of the Sea of Galilee about seventeen miles to the west of it. At the foot of a low rauge of mountains crossing Palestine, in a saucer-like basin, 18 Nazareth. To the south is the great plain of Esdraelon. Here more than one of Israel's and fine for medical purposes. great battles were fought. East of it lies Mt. Gilboa where Saul was slain, and Little Hermon, on whose slopes nestles Nain, the home of the widow whose son Jesus raised to life. The town contains about 7000 inhabitants. On the great hill that rises behind it Jesus may often have watched the ships on the Mediterranean, less than twenty miles away, and the caravans FRED HIPPEL, Jr., Owner as they went along the great road a little to the east of the town, or on their way across the plain of Esdraelon on their way to Egypt. Nazareth itself was not on any of the great trade routes, but secluded in a little valley

The fertility of palestine was remarkable. It was a "garden of God, and like a cornucopia of the most manifold productions (Mt. 13:23.) In several places in the Old Testament it is a "good land, flowing with milk and honey," and a "large fat land" (Ex. 3:8; 13:5; Neh. 9:25, 35.) also described by Josephus and others as having been very productive in the time of Jesus. It supported four or five million inhabitants, six times as many as the same area in Illinois. Galilee alone had 200 cities of about 20,000 each. But its blessings were dependent upon attention, care, industry and the blessings of God.

THE PANAMA CANAL.

The Board of Consulting Engineers of the Isthmian Canal Commission have very wisely, it would appear, decided to sink the canal to a sea-level depth and thus do away with the cumberson detention of locks and dams. The estimated cost of the work is $230,000,000, and the time required for its completion is placed at fifteen years as a maximum. In speaking of this matter the Washington correspondent of the Louisville Courier-Journal says:

"The sea level canal, which has been voted on by the members, will have a width at the bottom of 150 feet except in the Culebra cut where the bredth will be 200 feet. The greater width at the Culebra cut is necessary to allow two ships to pass each other safely between the high banks of the canal, which will be formed by the very deep excava-

But few Governments beside ours have the temerity to undertake and the means to carry out such a gigantic enterprise as this Panama canal. The object to be attained, however, will fully justify any reasonable expenditure on the part of the United States. The uniting of these two great oceans across the Isthmus of Panama will revolutionize the carrying trade of the world; will bring the Orient and the Occident in closer touch by thousands of miles; will open new markets for American products and will shower innumerable blessings and riches upon the people Fords Ferry. GLASS FACTORY FOR MARION.

A prominent manufacturer of the window, plate glass and other commodities made of glass sand has made a proposition to the citizens of Marion to locate a factory here on conthink can be carried out. The exact terms on which he proposes to locate here were set out in a letter to Mayor J. W. Blue and were received by him last week and it stated that the pay roll would run into the thousands every week and that several hundred inhabitants would be brought to the city at once. The matter is being canvassed and it is more than probable that the bonus asked will be raised by popular subscriptions immediately and that Marion will have the great manufacturing plant here before another year. Mrs. Nunn at the no city taxes for more than a dozen years, yet the town is one of the most prosperous in Colorado, and last year had an income of more than $15,000 above all running expenses.

Its entire revenues come from liquor licenses and water and light rentals, and the success of municipal ownership here is such that the citizens would not go back to the era of private public service corporations under any circumptances. Two years ago the local lighting plant was purchased from the corporation which owned it.

Last year it showed a gross income of $17,965.40, including $1,800 which the town charged itself for street lighting. Its operating expenses were $14.-388.28. The town's income for water rentals during the same period was $10,009.47 and from saloon licenses $14,122. The total receipts from all sources were $49.859.49, an actual surplus over the town's running expenses of $15,570.32. Practically all of this surplus was expended in additions to the town's water system, which is valued at approximately $55,000. The lighting plant is appraised at $32,000. The latter is now furnishing four times the amount of current produced at the time of its purchase by the city two years ago, the abnormal increase being due to the exceptionally low price of current. Light rentals and water rentals are lower than in any other city in the west, the minimum charges being $1.50 per month, with meter service, subject to a discount of 25 per cent if paid when due. The discount on water rentals is 15 per cent.

The newest breakfast jackets are very short skirted, reaching but a trifle below the waist line. An exceedingly becoming model is shown in the cut. This little negligee is made of rose pink china silk trimmed with a dainty pattern of valenciennes lace inset above the hem and applied in a tiny bolero effect. There is a bit of hand embroidery on the front of the yoke. and the neck is finished with a soft lace ruffle drawn up with pink ribbons run through beading. The short flowing sleeves are fully plaited and finished at the bottom with two rows of inserting above the hem. A fetching blue albatross gown was

For extremely cold weather-in fact, at any time during the winter-there is corduroy. This material does not crush and is very delightful to the touch. A luxurious "rest gown" was made of mouse gray corduroy, plainly fashioned and tied with a silver cord and tassel. Where the gown fell open at the bottom a soft lining of china blue silk was disclosed. A rose colored corduroy was lined with a deeper shade of rose.

Those who fancied for a moment that the popularity of the draped veil was on the wane were never more badly mistaken. In Paris veils are more than ever the rage this season. There are a few variations, however, in texture and the mode of wearing them noticeable among which is to swathe the crown of the hat in its folds scarf fashion. FALSE EMPEROR

Fifty Thousand Followers.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 16 .-- A false Emperor has suddenly made his appearance at Penza, and already has a following numbering fifty thousand. This is the startling report received this afternoon in a dispatch from Simbirsk. Penza is in the heart of the great region extending wostward from the Volga, where aggrarian uprising on a large scale has been occurring, and if the report turns out to be true that the pretender to the throne has placed himself at the head of the peasantry, the Government will soon face, besides its other troubles, a formidable aggrarian rebellion.

It required a year to suppress the famous rebellion led by Pugatichrff. who impersonated the dethroned and as well matured as the old bird itself. where used succulent and nutritious murdered Peter III., in the time of These mountains have no superior Catharine II. FREDONIA AND KELSEY.

On Thursday evening, Nov. 16th, at the Kelsey hotel, Miss Lena Conyer and Mr. Clifton King were united in marriage by Rev. M. E. Miller. It was a quiet home wedding; only a few friends of the popular young couple were present. The bride received a large number of useful and beautiful presents. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Q. M. Conyer, and is a most charming young lady, while the groom is a carpenter and contractor, and has a nice home at Memphis, where they will reside.
